PERSONAL PROJECTS

I've currently been working on a new series of polaroid candids with my new instax mini 90. I love using the double exposure feature to capture moments of peace mixed with moments of action, like a band member pre show over a gig photo.

I've also been trying to consistently photograph different local and touring bands that pass through State College, PA. Challenging myself to find new and alternative angles at each show gives me more to work with, learn about, and diversify my portfolio.

I periodically work with the growing social media presence of a dog clothing company, Rosie's Clothes. I've done several photo shoots for the owner of the business to showcase different styles that she wants to sell.
